ABOUT GNLU

Gujarat National Law University (GNLU), Gandhinagar, is one of the premier national law universities of India, accredited with 'A' grade by NAAC. The University is established under the Gujarat National Law University Act, a statutory legislation passed by the Government of Gujarat in the year 2003. The university offers Under Graduate, Post Graduate and Ph.D. Courses in law as well as many interdisciplinary areas. It is one of the leading centres for teaching and learning with respect to legal education in India. The University is a forerunner in the field of interdisciplinary research as well. The University has established various centres of excellence to carryout research, training and extension activities. One of the important areas of our academic and scholarly focus is a Centre dedicated to research and training on disability studies launched in 2nd October 2019.

TARGETED AUDIENCE

The targeted audience are namely the UG, PG and Ph.D. Students of GNLU, Faculties of GNLU and other interested participants from any other organisations.

ABOUT GCPWD

GNLU has an internal committee on Persons with Disabilities (GCPwD) established in the year 2017 as an enabling unit intending to secure the rights of PwDs and making the University more inclusive. Subsequently the University established GNLU Centre for Disability Studies (GCDS) on 02nd October 2019 with an aim to work for rights of disabled people and promotion of social justice through teaching and research in the interdisciplinary areas of sociology, social work, law and policy. Through curriculum development, research projects and disability studies, the Centre aims to provide meaningful contribution in the areas of disability and human rights, disability and society, accessibility and reasonable accommodations, inclusive education, gender and disability, amongst others. With an objective to accomplish its goals enshrined in the mission and vision of the Centre and Committee, GCDS and GCPwD together is organizing a half day workshop on learning disability for the students and faculties of the University.

ABOUT PROGRAM

Learning disabilities is a neurological processing problems. These processing problems can impact the individuals learning of basic skills such as reading and writing. They can also interfere with higher level skills such as organization, time planning, abstract reasoning, long or short term memory and attention. It may also effect the individual's life beyond academics and can impact relationships with family, friends and in the workplace. It cannot be cured or fixed and is a lifelong challenge. However, with appropriate support and intervention, people with learning disabilities can achieve success in academics, at work, in relationships, and in the community. With an aim to spread awareness on learning disability the GCDS and GCPwD along with Shantव्ना Child Development Centre is organising a Half-Day workshop on Learning Disability at GNLU.
